Wood Group Insurance Brings Allstate into Tom Wood Dealerships

Wood Group Insurance, a Tom Wood company, is now a part of Allstate's new Dealership Agency Program, offering their customers the convenience of access to licensed insurance agents within all Tom Wood auto dealerships. The new program provides showroom and service customers the convenience of obtaining insurance information and no-obligation quotes in person while they are visiting a Tom Wood dealership.

Indianapolis, IN—November 5, 2014—Tom Wood Automotive Group is pleased to announce the launch of Wood Group Insurance, its new partnership with Allstate Insurance. Tom Wood is one of the first dealership networks in Indiana to offer its customers on-premise insurance services.

Jeff Wood, President of Tom Wood Automotive Group, notes, "When we learned that eighty-five percent of people have never met their insurance agent—even though they've had that same agent an average of eight years—we saw an opportunity to offer our customers a much higher level of personalized insurance service."

"Partnering with Allstate was a natural choice for us," Wood adds, "because the core values of Tom Wood Automotive Group and Allstate are perfectly aligned: honesty, caring and integrity. Our focus on customer care, transparency and value, coupled with Allstate's strength, stability and reputation, is a win-win for our customers."
